

MISSION: Breakthrough Coalition is a network of service providers and others concerned with senior issues, committed to enhancing the quality of life for older adults within the St. Louis metropolitan area through education, advocacy and networking.

Breakthrough Coalition has a more than 25 year history of providing support to older adults. Formed in 1981, the coalition began with a handful of agencies wanting to simplify the "system" of care and support for older adults. Today, Breakthrough welcomes more than 200 agencies and individuals who participate in the mission.

Breakthrough Coalition is a group of organizations, companies and individuals who volunteer their time to improve the quality of life of older adults in our communities. Comprised of for-profit, non-profit and academic institutions, Breakthrough Coalition's work is achieved through subcommittees focused on specific concerns for seniors.

Meetings are open to the public, and new attendees are welcome. Membership is earned through attendance at three or more meetings per year plus involvement in one of the active committees. There is no fee to attend Breakthrough Coalition.

Breakthrough Coalition general membership meetings are held on the first Tuesday of even numbered months at the Maryland Heights Centre (2344 McKelvey) in St. Louis County. Meetings begin with networking at 8:00 am, start at 8:30 am, and are followed by a 90-minute presentation or networking activity. The business meetings include committee updates, resource sharing and an aging-related, advanced educational session. Also, those who attend are invited to bring their resources to share as well as make announcements of upcoming events at the end of the meeting.

As a volunteer organization, members and new attendees are encouraged to participate in one of our committees which include:
Steering, Education, Advocacy, and Networking.
